Teen Artist's Alley Policies and Procedures

Artists must be prepared to hang their exhibits within the first three days of the month assigned. All artwork included in the exhibit must remain hanging for the duration of the month (unless other arrangements are agreed upon by both parties). Artists must be prepared to hang their own work with minimal assistance from the Teen Room staff. The artwork must be able to be hung using the library's hanging system.

The artist will produce an artist's statement and brief description of the exhibit for display which will fit on a card measuring no larger than 8 ½ x 11 inches. The artist is also responsible for producing small labels for each art piece.

The Teen Room is part of a public building that serves people of all ages. We ask that teen artists ensure that pieces are appropriate for a general audience. Questions about content will be clarified during the application process. A member of the Teen Room staff must approve the exhibit after it is hung, and may require changes in layout for appearance or safety considerations. A complete list of the all the artworks contained in the exhibit must be left with the Teen Room Staff.

Exhibits must be removed no later than the last day of the month. The Teen Room staff have no space to store any artwork. Artwork must be removed from the buildings immediately after the exhibit is dismantled.

The Town of Lexington does not hold insurance for artwork on exhibit and is not responsible for loss of or damage to any of the artists' work. The exhibitor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless, the Town of Lexington, the Cary Library, and the Lexington Community Center against any theft, damage, or liability as a result of the use of the exhibit space.

Cary Memorial Library will not engage in selling or negotiating for the sale of artwork on behalf of the artist. However, contact information for the artist may be left in the Teen Room. The Cary Memorial Library shall receive no commission for any artwork sold.
